ABC Players Got Their Acts Together with a Workshop Held at Stuart's Opera House

On Saturday, September 29, 2012, ABC Players members Joe Balding, Marlo Tinkham, and Karen Chan led a workshop to help actors prepare monologues and approach roles. Everyone either chose a one minute monologue to memorize or selected one of their own. They played some theater games and did some exercises to help the actors individually with their monologues. After working in the morning, actors broke for a lovely lunch provided by Fullbrooks for a nominal fee and then reviewed the appropriate way to deliver a monologue in a cattle call fashion used by Ohio University. By the end of the session, all seemed familiar and comfortable delivering monologues.

The workshop participant take time to pose for a picture.

“The stage is not merely the meeting place of all the arts, but is also the return of art to life.”

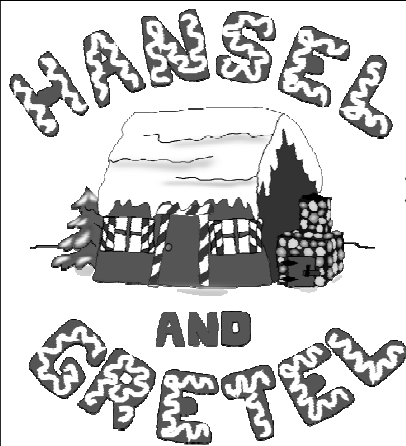

- Oscar Wilde

“All of the arts, poetry, music, ritual, the visible arts, the theater, must singly and together create the most comprehensive art of all, a humanized society, and its masterpeice, free man.”

- Bernard Berenson
